

Rail Safety Management

Railway systems are bound by law to meet the strictest of safety requirements. This has forced railway companies and infrastructure operators to continuously reveal compliance with ever more demanding regulations. We support our customers in ensuring occupational safety, especially when it comes to track and underground work.

We offer consulting services in the area of safety management to railway companies and infrastructure operators as well as public-sector agencies both in Switzerland and abroad. Safety management is the key to any proactive approach to safety.

Our services include:

- Developing customized safety management concepts
- Establishing, implementing and developing safety management systems (SMS)
- Developing of methods and tools to ensure safety, such as risk assessment safety
- Supporting the planning of measures
- Training, moderating and communications in the area of safety management
